Zawinul Legacy Band Plays NYC's Carnegie Hall March 08, 2014

Tickets go on sale Monday, Aug. 26, for The Zawinul Legacy Band's March 8, 2014 performance at Carnegie Hall.

The music of Joe Zawinul and his legendary groups, Weather Report and The Zawinul Syndicate is back!

This will be the band's first appearance in the United States and New York City, following on the heels of their European tour, which kicks off in October 2013.

The Zawinul Legacy Band was created by The Zawinul Estate to showcase and celebrate the music of Joe Zawinul, one of history's greatest jazz composers, musicians and band leaders. The Zawinul Legacy Band is comprised exclusively of former members of Zawinul's legendary, Grammy Award winning groups, Weather Report and The Zawinul Syndicate, who are all masters now in their own right. Tony Zawinul, who heads up The Zawinul Estate is available for interviews as are members of the band.

The Carnegie Hall concert is being presented as part of the Shape Of Jazz and Vienna: City Of Dreams Series, a collaboration between Carnegie Hall Festivals, The George and Joyce Wein Foundation and Absolutely Live Entertainment, LLC.
