

Zawinul Legacy Band Plays One Show At Carnegie Hall

The Zawinul Legacy Band will play at Carnegie Hall Saturday, March 8th, 2014. ShapeShifter Lab concerts cancelled.

ZawinulLegacyBan

PRLog - Jan. 14, 2014 - NEW YORK -- March 8th 9:30pm Carnegie Hall 881 7th Avenue NYC, 212 247-7800 www.CarnegieHall.org

The Zawinul Legacy Band Is: Scott Kinsey-Keyboards Robert Thomas Jr.-Hand Drums Michael Baker - Drums Hadrien Feraud - Bass and Katisse Buckingham - Saxes and Flute

The Zawinul Legacy Band plays the music of Joe Zawinul and his legendary, Grammy Award winning groups, Weather Report and The Zawinul Syndicate. The Zawinul Legacy Band isn't any ordinary "tribute" band. These musicians not only appreciate and value the creative and original music of Joe Zawinul, but most of them lived it right along side him. The core of the Zawinul Legacy Band is made up of players who have first-hand experience performing and recording with Joe, which gives them an invaluable insight and understanding of his music. In keeping with Joe's legacy for musical innovation and the discovery of new talent, The Zawinul Legacy Band welcomes new players that embody and honor the spirit of his music. Both of these concerts will be recorded for a new album, "Walkin Tall," slated for release early summer.

Sound and Video samples plus Bios available at: www.AgencyNouveau.com

The Carnegie Hall show, March 8th is part of the Shape of Jazz and Vienna, City Of Dreams Festival, made possible by The Joyce and George Wein Foundation and Carnegie Hall.